Montana Board of Livestock

RE: Brand Requirement for Canadian Cattle Imported into Montana for Immediate Slaughter

The purpose of this letter is to outline specific concerns regarding the requirement to brand Canadian cattle with a CAN brand that are imported into Montana for immediate slaughter.

- These cattle are destined for immediate slaughter and are transported in sealed trucks directly to approved slaughter facilities. Therefore, the branding requirement seems to serve no additional value from either an animal identification or disease risk mitigation standpoint.
- Cattle for immediate slaughter are large (1,250-1,450 lb/hd routinely, but up to 2,200 lb/hd in the case of Wagyu cattle) and running them through a chute and handling system is an animal welfare concern due to handling stress and injury risk, as well as a carcass quality concern due to bruising.
- The USDA does not require a CAN brand for cattle destined for immediate slaughter.
- The CAN brand requirement could hinder future opportunities for Montana-based slaughter facilities to conduct business with Canadian cattle owners and feedlot operators.

As stated above, the CAN brand requirement for cattle destined for immediate slaughter and transported on sealed trucks to Montana does not add any benefit from a food safety and food security perspective, but conversely has substantial negative implications for cattle welfare, carcass quality, and business opportunities for Montana-based slaughter facilities. I respectfully request that the Montana Board of Livestock review the current import requirements and consider removal of the requirement that Canadian cattle destined for immediate slaughter in Montana be branded with a CAN brand.

Respectfully

Agenda Item: Request to Fund Saletime Traceability Module at MT Livestock Markets

Background Info: Montana livestock markets generate large amounts of traceability data. The issuance of certificates of veterinary inspection at livestock markets present some unique challenges because animals may be from multiple consignors and requirements are not known until after a sale is completed. Options for market specific software is limited and the currently used product is no longer supported.

Saletime, the software program used by 12 of Montana's 13 livestock markets, has a new module that communicates with sale information and allows the issuance of electronic CVIs. AHB bureau staff saw a demo of the program during the 2021 WSLHA meeting in Boise and has been asked to support the implementation of this module at Montana markets by covering a portion of installation costs. The commission company or the market veterinarian will be responsible for ongoing maintenance of the module. AHB has been approved to use $20,000 of FY2021 ADT funding for 4 livestock markets. Going forward with FY2022 ADT funding, AHB would like to cover an additional 4 installs at $5,000 per market. This will be repeated in future ADT funding until all markets that wish to participate have completed installation. Currently 2 livestock markets have moved forward with the module installation and an additional 3 markets are pending. Without a strong option for the issuance of CVIs at livestock markets, traceability data associated with market sales will be compromised. Additionally, MDOL regularly hears feedback on the difficulties of finding and retaining veterinarians to work at livestock markets. A workable and convenient solution for market health certification may help ease this struggle for markets.

BACKGROUND

The Montana Department of Livestock initially set an implementation date of January 1, 2021, to require all certificates of veterinary inspection (CVIs) for Montana origin animals be issued electronically. Based on feedback from the Montana Veterinary Medical Association (MVMA), the Department delayed implementation until 2022, allowing veterinarians to write up to 20 paper health certificates during the calendar year. During the first two months of 2022, seven of 3,181 export CVIs received by our office were issued on paper. This is an electronic adoption rate of 99.78%.

PROPOSED POLICY

The Department will extend the 2021 policy of a 20 paper CVI allowance through 2022. With the recent announcement the AgMove platform will no longer be available, veterinarians are left with only one option for offline issuance of electronic CVIs. VET-CVI, a free option with offline capabilities, is expected to be available to Montana veterinarians in the coming months.

Assuming adequate options for the offline issuance of CVIs, beginning January 1, 2023, all CVIS for Montana origin animals will be required to be issued electronically with allowance for the issuance of paper CVIs in cases of hardware or software failure and with notification of the Department. The Department has received feedback asking for clarification on what constitutes justifiable instances to use paper CVIs and a timeframe for reporting. Because the Department cannot outline all potential scenarios and to eliminate the need for policy interpretation by veterinarians, the Department's policy on allowable use of paper CVIs will be 5% of total CVIs issued by an individual veterinarian.

RESPONSE TO NON-COMPLIANCE

Montana veterinarians have done a tremendous job embracing and adopting the use of electronic technologies for CVIs. We recognize the learning curve associated with new technologies. Thank you for all your and your staff's hard work.

For veterinarians that fail to comply with this policy, the following sequential compliance steps will be taken:

- 1. Written notification of violation of Department policy. For interested veterinarians, the Department will provide additional training on the use of available platforms.
- 2. Request for a written plan outlining how the ongoing violation of department policy will be addressed. Assistance from Department staff will continue to be available.
- 3. Suspension or termination of deputy state veterinarian status per administrative rule 32.3.141. This status is required for the issuance of CVIs by Montana veterinarians.

Subject: [EXTERNAL] Electronic Health Certificates

Dear Chairman Curry and Members of the Board of Livestock:

I thank you all, at your last meeting of the Board of Livestock, for your attention to and detailed discussion of the issue of Electronic CVI's. I thank you, also, for tabling the discussion so that full consideration could be given to the factors influencing whether or not eCVI's should become policy of the Board, with only a narrow window for any deviations allowed.

I reiterate my position that the decision of whether to issue a paper CVI or an electronic version should remain at the sole discretion of the issuing state accredited veterinarian. There could be a number of reasons that an eCVI is difficult to issue. Here in the Madison Valley, it was only last July that fiber optic cable was laid to our ranch headquarters. Points south of our ranch are still in the queue for this service to become available. Cell phone service is patchy and inconsistent at best. I can only imagine that these same conditions exist in the far reaches of our eastern and northern counties. My colleagues serving the livestock producers in those areas often drive miles to reach the corrals where cattle are being loaded out. Then it is back into the truck to head down the road to the next set of corrals, cattle, and truckers. It is my opinion that these professionals have the integrity and capacity to decide if a paper CVI serves the livestock producer better. Will you please allow them the option to employ their professional decision making ability?

Per our State Veterinarian, a full 97% of the CVIs received this past year were electronic. It makes sense to me that the remaining 3% are being generated by older veterinarians. If so, and this could be easily ascertained, this "problem 3%" are going to naturally age out, all the while the access to statewide broadband and cell phone coverage will continue to improve. It seems reasonable to me that the very small percent of certificates being submitted via paper should be an amount that is acceptable to be processed in the State Veterinarian's office. The paper CVI's are a clear minority, given that 97% of certificates are being submitted in the preferred electronic manner. Ultimately, this does not appear to be a matter regarding a practitioner's neglect of this requested change, as was inferred by the comment regarding 5 years being sufficient time to transition to eCVI's. Rather, it appears to be an issue regarding either 1. sufficient technological access in rural areas of our state, or 2. pracitioner's competence when it comes to generating eCVI's. To me, the transition to accepting only eCVIs will disproportionately affect the older generation of veterinarians that are serving our communities and the livestock industry. In short, I worry that electing to only accept eCVIs will negatively impact this specific subset of Montana's veterinarians, and directly highlights an intolerance of technologically challenged practices.

As a newly minted veterinarian, I was most appreciative of becoming a state accredited veterinarian. One day I saw a sheep with foot rot, really inflamed and alarmingly red between the digits. And there on the hard paper postcard of reportable diseases, under ovine, was "Strawberry Foot Rot". I mailed it off to the DOL with a check mark, showing a suspected case. Early the next week, I received a phone call from then Acting State Veterinarian Owen James. He had the warmest tone as he drawled out, "So, you think you saw a case of Strawberry Foot Rot, do you?".

I went on to explain what I had seen that made me check that box. He responded that Strawberry Foot Rot had been eradicated from sheep in Montana for a good 40 years, and that did I, perhaps, think I had seen a case of foot rot of the normal variation? Oh my gosh, of course I had not seen the reportable version. We ended up having a good chuckle together. He closed with saying, "So do you think I can just draw a line through this disease you have checked off?" And I ended up thinking what an ally we had in the State Veterinarian's office, as practitioners in Montana.

I close with the thought that we all, practitioners, Board of Livestock members, and those in the State Veterinarian's office are on the same team.. Let's not make that more difficult than it needs to be.

Sincerely,

Eileen M. White, DVM

PROJECT PROPOSAL

CLIENT NUMBER

DATE 12-9-21

CLIENT | Montana Department of Livestock

JOB NAME Media Training

PROJECT SCOPE:

The Montana Department of Livestock has been focusing on response plans as part of their preparedness plan, in the event of a foreign animal disease outbreak or an emerging animal disease event. It was identified during a recent response drill that interaction with the news media will be essential to help deliver producer, community and public information.

Woodruff will provide media training, via two seasoned professionals, to a total of 25 individuals selected by the Department of Livestock. This list could include officers and staff of the Department of Livestock, veterinarians, and additional potential essential spokespeople.

The training will consist of interactive engagement in a half-day of classroom-style presentation for the entire group. During the classroom portion of the training, participants will work specifically on basic media skills, including effective delivery of messages and talking points. The course will focus on techniques including how to prepare for an interview, using the message points effectively and personal delivery of messages. This training will focus on planned media interviews and on field media interviews, during an animal disease situation.

Following the classroom portion, the group will be split into two sections. Each section will spend half a day participating in mock interviews. These interviews will include on-camera experience with immediate feedback and critique from the section and leaders. For each participant to have the full experience on-camera, the sections will be split into 2 group of approximately 6 to 7 participants. Each Woodruff trainer will lead a group.

At the end of the mock interviews, the groups will reconvene as a section for the final hour to review key learnings, answer remaining questions and ensure the participants are confidently prepared to conduct media interviews.

A key component of the training is the availability of talking points/messages. Department of Livestock will provide the training team with Montana-specific messages built around a potential FMD outbreak. Woodruff could assist in retooling the FMD Cross-species Team messages if assistance is needed.

Proposed Agenda

Day 1

8:30 a.m. Classroom learning for the entire group of 25

11:30 a.m. lunch

12:30 p.m. Section 1, On-camera experience --split into two groups of 6-7 people each

4:30 p.m. Adjourn

Day 2

8:30 a.m. Section 2, On-camera experience --split into two groups of 6-7 people each Noon Adjourn

The agenda could be shifted to allow for classroom learning in the afternoon of day 1 and both sections of oncamera learning on day 2, depending on the travel schedule of the participants.

FINAL DELIVERABLE:

Media training for 25 participants as described above. Key message development assistance billed separately.

TIMEFRAME:

The date of this training is yet to be agreed upon, but is expected to occur between April 1, 2022, and June 30, 2022.

BILLING SCHEDULE:

Project to be billed 100% on June 1, 2022, with the out-of-pocket costs billed at the completion of the project.

PRICE:

Media training (prep/coordination and on-site training) $10,000 Additional message development assistance, if needed $2,500 Travel billed at cost (airfare for two, two-night hotel stay for two, rental car) estimated $2,500 Video equipment rental billed at cost (Estimated at $500 to $1,000)

Agenda Request Form

From: Gregory Juda Division/Program: MVDL Meeting Date: 3/18/2022

Agenda Item: Out of State Travel Request for NPIP Biennial Conference

The National Poultry Improvement Plan (NPIP) has scheduled their Biennial conference for June 7-10, 2022 in Dallas, TX. The MVDL is the only approved lab in Montana that can perform general diagnostic work, culture for Salmonella Enteritidis and Salmonella Pullorum, and molecular detection of avian influenza and Salmonella Enteritidis for the NPIP flock certification program.

NPIP certified labs are required to send at least one employee to the NPIP biennial conference to maintain NPIP laboratory certification for testing. The presence of one MVDL Clinical Microbiology technician and one MVDL Molecular Diagnostics technician at the conference will ensure that important program updates, changes to previous testing standards, and modifications to existing approved techniques are seamlessly integrated within the laboratory upon their return. With an increased producer and regulatory interest in pursuing NPIP certification of poultry flocks, maintaining NPIP laboratory approval is critical to keeping these diagnostic services available to poultry producers in the state of Montana.

MVDL is requesting approval to send Kaylee Schrader (Microbiology) and Daniel Arenas (Molecular Diagnostics) to the meeting in order to maintain our NPIP certification to preform testing on NPIP scope avian diseases. This travel will be funded via the NAHLN II FY22-23 grant which included $7000 in travel funding for training of molecular diagnostics and microbiology lab technicians.

Due to the lag in timing that expenses are able to be posted to the accounting system, projected expenses are calculated using five months to the end of the year instead of the anticipated four months.

The personal services projections includes employee retirement payout in the amount of $19,930.

The Brands division had employee termination payouts of $92,649 and $54,131 for the period ending February 28, 2022 and 2021, respectively.
